

Commencement 2004

Both undergraduate and graduate Commencement convocations are scheduled for Saturday, May 15 in the Greek Amphitheatre.

■ At press time, 533 undergraduate and 126 graduate degrees are scheduled to be awarded.

■ Honorary degrees will be presented to Ron Benefiel, president of Nazarene Theological Seminary; George Fermanian, San Diego businessman and PLNU faculty member; and Mel Rich, superintendent of the Central California district of the Church of the Nazarene. Posthumous degrees will be awarded to Linda Brown (M.A. in education) and Ruth Souza (M.S.N.).

■ Speaker for Graduate Convocation is Jill Hamilton-Bunch, assistant professor of education at PLNU Bakersfield. Undergraduate convocation speaker is Karl Martin, professor of literature.

■ Evan Miller will be honored for his perfect 4.000 G.P.A., double majoring in biology-chemistry and philosophy and theology.

■ A new part of the undergraduate ceremony is the reading of the New Testament Lesson—the high-priestly prayer of Jesus (John 17), which has been adopted by the administration as the University Prayer.
